DAMAGE SUIT TRIAL BEGUN

9-YEAR-OLD "JIM" ELLIS PRINCIPAL WITNESS.

RESULT OF ACCIDENT

$5,000 Is Asked of W. T. Doyle, Who Says Boy Darted in Front of His Car.

Nervously rubbing his hands over the arms of the witness chair with his legs swinging to and fro, hardly reaching the floor, Charles James Ellis, jr., the 9-year-old flaxen-haired son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, this morning in circuit court told his version of the automobile collision in which he was injured, and because of which a suit was filed in his behalf to collect $5,000 damages from W. T. Doyle, West Seventh street.

"Jim," as he was called by his counsel, could not be caught off his guard when cross-examined, and steadfastly stuck to his first testimony: that he was walking along the east side of the paving, about two feet from the edge of the concrete, on Highway No. 71 a short distance north of where it connects with North Main street, when he was hit by the automobile driven by the defendant.

In short, affirmative answers, hardly audible to the jury, the lad said that he knew there was a lot of traffic on this highway and that it was necessary to be on the watch for automobiles.

He was the first witness called to the stand in the suit of Charles Ellis, jr., by his next friend, his father, Charles Ellis, living in northeast Maryville, against Mr. Doyle, a retired farmer.

Claim Serious Injury.

The contention of the plaintiff in this suit is that the boy was hit by an automobile driven by Mr. Doyle, about 4 o'clock the afternoon of November 16, as the lad, with his brother, John, age 8, and other neighbor boys were returning to their homes from the Franklin school on North Main street. In the opening statement to the jury, by the plaintiff's attorney, the claim was made that Mr. Doyle, driving south, ran into the boy while he was on the east side of the pavement, the crank of the car catching into the boy's overcoat belt. It was declared the lad was dragged by the car for a distance of 51 feet, his head being bounced on the paving, and that serious injuries resulted, to the extent of the boy's being rendered unconscious, his hearing impaired, his nose crushed and leg hurt.

The boy was taken to the hospital and confined there a month and since the accident has been in a nervous state, it was declared. When asked on the stand if he had been nervous since the accident, the boy replied: "I don't know," but added that he was "scared" when he went to bed.

The contention of the defendant is that the Ellis boy, with several others, was on the west side of the paving when Mr. Doyle drove south on the paving. The claim is made that the boys were playing tag and that Charles Ellis had climbed inside a fence, circled around a tree on the west of the paving, and as Mr. Doyle came by, darted out on a driveway from the paving to a private garage, in front of the Doyle car, which was following a truck. The truck and Doyle car were not moving at a greater speed than five miles an hour the defense claims. The defendant asks to be exonerated, stating he was not at fault, but that the accident was due to the action of the child in running behind the truck and into the Doyle automobile.

Much Time for Jury.

Considerable time was taken in challenging the jury, which finally was selected as follows:

E. T. Hutcherson, Joe Fogan, C. A. Turpin, George Swaney, Lelman Hansen, Charles Lewis, L. E. Jasper, O. O. Gregory, John Luke, R. N. Bancroft, Fred Daniels, and George Westfall.

A. F. Harvey and the firm of Shinabargar, Blagg and Sigler are attorneys for the defense and Ellis G. Cook and L. C. Cook of the firm of Cook & Cummins are attorneys for the plaintiff.

A suit on a note for $850 was filed in the circuit clerk's office by Benton VanHorn against F. O. Wilson and Byron Engle. The note was dated May 23, 1925.

L. W. McIntyre, of Burlington Junction, was in Maryville today.

Five Chicken Thieves Taken to Penitentiary

Sheriff L. B. Campbell and Deputy Sheriff Frank Burchett of Graham left Maryville at 5 o'clock yesterday morning for Jefferson City with the five men who were sentenced to terms in the penitentiary Saturday afternoon in circuit court on charges of chicken stealing in the night time.

The party made the trip in one of the Hastings' busses, driven by Kenneth Greeson as far as St. Joseph and by Rodney Hastings on to Jefferson City. The men taken to the prison were Dayton Lawson, Charles Wilfong, Cyrus Wilfong, Earl Wilfong, Delmar Nowling.

County Convention at Barnard Also Urges Support of Exchanges and Producers' Contract.

At the annual county meeting of the Women's Progressive Farm Association, held Saturday at the Community M. E. Church in Barnard, Mrs. Ernest Ingram was re-elected county president for her third term. Mrs. Ingram lives west of Barnard.

Mrs. John Rush, Barnard, was elected vice-president of the association, and Mrs. R. W. Bridges, Barnard, was made secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Paul Drydale, west of Barnard, was chosen leader of the Junior Farmers Association.

About thirty members representing clubs near Barnard and Guilford attended the meeting. The clubs having delegates present were Whitehall, Common Sense, Riverside, Fairview, Trego and Lincoln.

Mrs. Bert Hubbell, Bolckow, district director, gave the principal address of the day, "Blood, Brains, Backbone." Members said it was exceptionally fine, dealing with the duties to be performed by an association member.

A report by the secretary showed ten clubs active, with 132 members. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $98.50.

Resolutions framed by a committee composed of Mrs. Ray Thrasher, chairman, Mrs. Blanche Rickman and Mrs. Rush, were adopted. The first four thanked the M. E. church for the use of the building, commended the county president and secretary and the state board of directors "for the efficient manner in which they have carried on the work of the organization," and pledged hearty support to the new county officers; extended "heartfelt sympathy" to the W. P. F. A., state president, Mrs. T. E. Holliday, upon the death of her father; and expressed "love and appreciation of Mrs. James Jobe for her services and loyalty to the W. P. F. A.," while acting as its first county president. Mrs. Jobe is in poor health.

Others were:

"That we renew our pledge of loyalty and service to the M. F. A., to assist in putting over the producers' contract.

"That we urge you to remind the members that it is their duty to support all exchanges and to use the M. F. A. commodities.

"That we urge each club to pay faithful attention to the J. F. A., for the future of both the M. F. A., and W. P. F. A., depends upon the training we give our boys and girls.

"That we lend our every effort to complete our organization in all unorganized counties in our district.

"That we wish to tender our thanks to Mr. Hirth for his efforts in behalf of American agriculture."

There will be a meeting of the county board of the W. P. F. A., in Maryville next Saturday. It will be a business session.

Pete Johnson suffered a black eye yesterday afternoon, when his automobile turned over at the curve on the highway north of Maryville as he turned south from the Wilcox road. The car was badly damaged.

Johnson suffered severe bruises and sprains to his neck and back. A State Teachers College student who was riding with Johnson was uninjured. Johnson was driving.

'28 LICENSES TO BE READY

MOTORISTS CAN GET THEM AT C. OF C. WEDNESDAY.

MUST BRING TITLES

Cash Also to Be Required.—No Time Limit Announced for Replacing of 1927 Plates.

Everything is in readiness for the sale of state 1928 passenger car and truck licenses at the Maryville Chamber of Commerce. The office will open at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, when the first orange and blue tag will be sold. The office will be closed at 5 o'clock every afternoon.

Miss Catherine Tobin, acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is to be assisted during the sale by Morris Chick. Miss Tobin will be absent from the office for lunch from 11:30 until 12:30 o'clock, while Mr. Chick will not be there from 12:30 until 1:30 o'clock.

The prices for licenses will be on a basis of horsepower, the same as last year.

All applicants for tags must bring their titles and cash, as checks will not be accepted in payment on licenses. "Your last year's license may save an extra trip home," Miss Tobin said.

The Chamber of Commerce has received 5000 owner's licenses and 500 truck tags. It is expected the sale this year will equal if not exceed last year's. A report from the Chamber of Commerce shows that 6578 state tags were sold in 1927, the remittances to the state amounting to $70,200.48. There were calls for licenses from all over the northwest district of the state.

What They Cost.

Prices for owners licenses range in price from $10.50 to $22.50. The cars and prices follow:

Prices on trucks range from $10.50 to $18, depending on the tonnage of the truck. The models of trucks listed are the International, G. M. C., Federal, Republic, Garford, Commerce, Avery, Collier, Indiana and Sampson.

The new state road maps, issued by the Missouri Highway Commission, may be had at the office for the asking.

George P. Wright, prosecuting attorney of Nodaway county, said today no definite time limit had been established yet as to when all 1928 tags should be purchased but the time will probably not exceed six weeks or two months. He pointed out that as far as the law is concerned it is illegal to drive a car with a 1927 tag after date of the opening sale. But owing to the fact that many find it impossible to purchase early, an extension is made as an accommodation to late buyers, a courtesy which should not be abused.

When the limit has been set, the law will be strictly enforced.

40 PERSONS POISONED BY PARTY FOOD

Attacks of Ptomaine Follow Lunch at First Christian Church.—Not Traced to Source.

About forty of the two hundred women who attended the "birthday party" at the Christian Church Friday afternoon were recovering today from the effects of ptomaine poisoning, believed to have been caused by something they ate at the church.

A few women took home food left from the lunch and their families also were affected.

No investigation will be made by the county health department, it was announced today as there was no food left to be sent in to a laboratory.

Physicians consulted by those affected with the poisoning stated positively that some of the food eaten had caused the ptomaine poisoning but they could not definitely place the cause of the illness upon any special food.

FARM UNION FOR MERGER

VOTES FOR UNITED COUNTY FARMERS ORGANIZATION.

FOURTH URGING UNION

Frank Miller, President, Names Committee to Meet With Other Bodies to Draft Constitution.

Representatives from the five locals around Hopkins and four locals around Skidmore of the Nodaway County Farmers Union voted in favor of the merging of the county farm organizations into one body at a meeting held here Saturday afternoon at the courthouse.

Frank Miller of Hopkins, county president of the Farmers Union, who presided at this quarterly meeting, was instructed to appoint a committee of three members to represent the Farmers Union in a meeting of similar committees from the Farm Bureau and the M. F. A., to draft by-laws and make other plans for the united organization.

Mr. Miller has selected two members of the committee. They are J. B. Shields of Maryville, who is a member of one of the locals at Skidmore, and Olin Pistole of Hopkins. The third member will be announced later on.

The meeting, which also took up routine matters, was for the purpose of discussing merging of the three farm organizations. The sentiment was declared to be strong for such an organization.

There were twenty in attendance at the meeting.

The Farmers Union is the fourth farmers organization in the county to urge unification of the farm bodies in the county, the M. F. A., Farm Bureau and Herron club previously having voted in favor of the merger.

State Prison Board to Set a Precedent

Parole Application of a Prisoner in Newton County Jail Is First of Its Kind.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 30.—A new precedent will be set by the State Prison Board February 13 when it considers the parole application of Forest Smith, serving six months in the Newton County jail on a charge of transporting intoxicating liquor.

The Prison Board has no jurisdiction over persons serving jail sentences and the case is attracting considerable interest. Smith's application is one of twenty-five to be heard by the board.

T. Speed Mosby, paroles commissioner, said Smith's case is out of the jurisdiction of Newton County circuit court and that only Gov. Sam Baker can consider his application for clemency.

After the jail sentence and $500 fine was imposed on Smith he appealed to the supreme court, where the action of the trial court was affirmed.

Special Meetings at Skidmore Church

The pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Skidmore, has started a series of special meetings which will be continued indefinitely. Sunday night services at other churches in Skidmore will be discontinued during these nightly meetings.

HICKMAN JURY IS COMPLETED

EIGHT MEN AND FOUR WOMEN TO TRY YOUNG SLAYER.

WALSH TAKES STAND

Defense Attorney Asks for Three Special Alienists From Psychiatrists' Association to Examine Hickman.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 30.—A jury of eight men and four women, composed for the most part of gray-haired grandparents, will decide the fate of William Edward Hickman.

The jury was obtained shortly before noon recess after sensational developments that included a defense motion motion to have present alienists engaged in the case dismissed and three specialists appointed by the American Psychiatrists' Association.

Completion of the jury came after the motion had been denied and the examination of the tentative jury resumed. The defense expended its twentieth challenge and the state had used seven when District Attorney Asa Keyes announced the prosecution was satisfied. It was believed that the actual taking of testimony would begin before to day's session adjourned.

New Panel Called.

Judge Trabucco announced that because of the prospect of a protracted trial it was deemed necessary to select two alternates instead of one in the event that some member of the jury was taken ill or otherwise indisposed during the proceedings.

Another panel was exhausted when three teatative alternates were excused. Court was adjourn and a new panel called for the afternoon session.

The jury includes:

Elias Kahn, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Bullis, Alhambra; Virginia L. Roess, Sierra Madre; Robert L. Bowman; Arlo E. Rickett, Pomona; Edwin Venable, Hermosa Beach; J. A. Ruggles, Howard Skewes, Whittier; Howard Atkinson, Long Beach, Mrs. Sarah A. Roach, Harry Wood, and Mrs. Emily Lindrum.

Dorothy Mackail, movie star, was an interested spectator in court today.

Walsh Takes Stand.

The defense suffered two sharp reverses in its legal maneuvering.

Jerome Walsh, attorney for Hickman, was overruled in a motion to delay the trial while a committee of alienists to be appointed by the American Psychiatrists' Association examine him to determine whether he is sane.

Walsh also lost in his objection to further questioning of the jury panel that had been passed by both sides before court adjourned Friday.

Walsh asked the examination by a committee of alienists from the American Psychiatrists' Association on the grounds that Hickman is without funds to retain alienists for the preparation of an adequate defense.

The burden of proving Hickman insane, the only avenue by which he can escape the death penalty, for the murder of Marion Parker, rests with the defense.

Walsh took the witness stand in a sensational move to have the action made a matter of court record.

Walsh was permitted to take the oath of a witness and he testified that Hickman was without funds and could not hope to cope with the alienists employed by the state.

"This is an unequal battle," Walsh said. "On one side we have the wealth of the State of California and on the other a penniless youth fighting for his life."

Walsh testified that he had dug down into his own pockets to spend $600 in arranging for Hickman's defense and indicated that he did not expect to get one penny as a fee after the trial is ended.

He said that a fund for Hickman's defense had not been raised in Kansas City.

PRESIDENT OF IRELAND IS IN TRAIN WRECK

Reports of Attempt on Life of Cosgrave Prompt Secret Service to Guard Visitor.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 30.—Reports that an attempt had been made on the life of President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish Free State this afternoon prompted secret service officers of the Canadian Mounted Police to hasten to Limoges, where Cosgrave's train was derailed while en route to Ottawa.

The train bringing President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State to Ottawa from Philadelphia was derailed today at Limoges, about 30 miles from the Canadian capital.

Cosgrave and members of his party were riding in a day coach and were not injured. Two members of the crew were reported killed.

The engine of the train, the Canadian capital, was said to have run into an open switch.

NO CHANGE IN TARIFF NOW

HOUSE LEADER REPLIES TO WESTERN FARM BLOC.

PHONE PROBE ASKED

Senator Hiram Johnson Sponsor of Newest Investigating Proposal —Before Congress.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The administration, through House Leader Tilson, served notice today upon western farm Republicans and Democrats, who have been agitating tariff revision, that there will be no revision at this session.

Political considerations make it impossible, he said.

Democrats want downward revision on manufactured articles while farm leaders have put in any number of resolutions for an upward revision on farm products which they claim are coming into the country in competition with domestic production.

Tilson indicated, however, Republicans are planning revision in the next congress.

"To attempt a tariff revision now, only four months before the first of the great national conventions, would in all probability mean the beginning of a task that could not be completed before the presidential election," Tilson said.

Asks a Telephone Inquiry.

A resolution proposing a special Senate investigation of all telephone companies in the country was introduced by Senator Hiram Johnson, of California. It was referred to the Senate interstate commerce committee for preliminary inquiry to determine whether a full investigation is warranted.

The resolution would direct that a special Senate committee of five members ascertain the following information:

The manner in which the telephone companies are interlocked with holding corporations.

Whether fees and capital assets are absorbed jointly by these corporations and manipulated so that high rates can be charged.

Whether telephone companies have spent large sums to influence public opinion or political elections.

To Amend Walsh Resolution.

Washington, Jan. 30.—A sub-committee to draft amendments to the Walsh resolution for investigation of the power industry was appointed today by the Senate interstate commerce committee.

According to chairman Watson, Indiana, the committee favors limitation of the inquiry to companies operating in interstate commerce only and appointed the sub-committee to amend the resolution accordingly.

Senator Sackett, Republican, Kentucky; Wagner, Democrat, New York; and Pine, Republican, Oklahoma, comprise the sub-committee.

Would Combat Boll Worm.

Washington, Jan. 30.—President Coolidge asked Congress today for an appropriation of $100,000 to combat the new outbreak of the pink boll worm threatening cotton in Texas. He asked that $100,000 be made available immediately.

SEE A FAIR FARM YEAR

U. S. EXPERTS PREDICT GENERAL IMPROVEMENT.

AGAINST EXPANSIONS

Dangers of Over-Production in Wheat and Some Other Crops Pointed Out.—Hogs to Go Up.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Farmers may expect a fairly good year in 1928, the Agriculture Department predicted today.

General improvement in the agriculture situation was forecast, providing farmers avoid sensational expansions and continue to balance production with demand.

The government "1928 agriculture outlook" said farmers may anticipate a domestic market this year equal to that of 1927, with possibility of some improvement. Foreign demand, however, will be no better this year than last, it was stated.

Farm Labor Plentiful.

Farm labor will be plentiful this year, the department continued. Farm wages and prices of farm machinery are not likely to change, and building materials will be lower, it was stated.

"The agriculture credit situation in most sections is somewhat improved over a year ago," the outlook said. "The credit supply in financial centers continued abundant and rates on commercial loans and investments have shown further decline.

"Cotton growers, when they begin to market the 1928 crop, will meet the relatively favorable condition of a smaller carry-over than last year, and a demand situation about the same as for the 1927 crop. Danger of danger from boll weevil still exists in spite of the extremely low temperatures in January and still looms as a material factor in determining yield per acre.

World Wheat Crop Larger.

"Cotton growers have in their own control the determination of acreage and the extent to which they will increase their acreage over that planted in 1927 will tend to reduce the total return from the 1928 crop."

The world wheat crop this year "probably will be larger again and unless there is a heavy winter killing in hard wheat areas, any material increase in acreage in the United States will tend to reduce the total return from the 1928 crop."

The world wheat crop this year "probably will be larger again and unless there is a heavy winter killing in hard wheat areas, any material increase in acreage in the United States will tend to increase the world supply and probably reduce returns to growers," the outlook warned.

Farmers will make only slight changes in corn acreage this year, the department said. It pointed out that with average yields a normal corn crop will be produced and prices will be slightly higher than last year's.

Hog Prices to Be Better.

Other points in the outlook included:

Flax acreage can be expanded profitably.

Reduce rice acreage.

The 1928 hay crop will exceed normal livestock requirements.

Market supplies of beef cattle will be smaller this year than last by 6 to 10 per cent.

Hog prices are likely to strengthen.

Light wool stocks indicate favorable outlook for wool growers.

Dairy industry is in strong position.

Further decrease in number of mules and horses for work indicated, resulting eventually in higher prices for these animals.

Poultry producers have prospects for higher price levels.

Prices of feed by-products probably will be higher, hay lower.

Potatoes Probably Lower.

Potato growers indicate expanding acreage, which probably will result in lower prices.

Reduction in sweet potatoes, cabbage and onion acreage needed.

Citrus outlook same as last year, with indications that additional plantings now unfavorable.

Tobacco outlook does not justify material changes in acreage.

Outlook is for sugar points to continue large world production with prices at about same level as now.

Walter Davis of Ravenwood, was here Saturday.

Joint Flood Relief Measure Considered

House Committee Has Plan Before It Requiring $600,000,000, Combining Army and Mississippi Plans.

Washington, Jan. 30.—A composite flood relief measure embracing the army engineer plan and features of the Mississippi River commission plan, at a cost of about $600,000,000, is being considered by the House flood control committee, it was learned today.

Chairman Reid has worked out costs of such a plan, which will be the basis of the committee's work when it begins to draft legislation this week at conclusion of the flood hearings.

The army engineer plan would cost $296,400,000, in addition to cost of spillway rights, while the Mississippi River commission plan would cost $775,000,000.

Reid approved the engineering features of the army engineer plan today as its author, Major General Edgar Jadwin, was concluding his testimony, and described it as a basin upon which the committee could enlarge by using other engineering projects.

Hoover Has Amnesia, Says Senator Neely

West Virginia Democrat Declares Commerce Secretary Forgets Too Easily.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover, prominently mentioned as a Republican presidential candidate, "has sffered a notorious attack of Amnesia," Senator Neely, Democrat, West Virginia, told the Senate today in a general attack upon Hoover, Secretary of Treasury Mellon and Senator Borah, Idaho.

Hoover is the only man who can forget quicker than Borah, Neely said.

"The Secretary of Commerce cannot remember who married him or why; what political parties he has belonged to in the last decade or the name of the country in which he lived for the last 14 years," Neely said.

Tobacco Growers Say Farm Bill Necessary

Washington, Jan. 30.—Enactment of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill is necessary to protect tobacco growers because voluntary cooperation among them has failed, the House agricultural committee was told today.

J. W. Kehoe, Maysville, Ky., former vice-president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, said these co-operatives, now defunct, had failed through lack of compulsory legislation.

Congress cost the tobacco growers $20,000,000 a few years ago when it refused to pass a bill to determine the tobacco surplus, the growers dumping their products for low prices, Kehoe declared.

EAST STILL IN GRIP OF COLD

TEMPERATURES MAY GO LOWER. WITH MORE SNOW.

WASHINGTON DIGS OUT

Snowstorm There Worst in 25 Years —Atlantic Crossing Worst in Long Time.

New York, Jan. 30.—The severe cold spell which gripped the East during the week-end, coming after a wind storm had lashed the eastern coast, continued today with prospects of lower temperatures and possibly more snow.

Four deaths were attributed indirectly to the cold, shipping was imperiled, with more than twenty vessels seeking one lost coast guard cutter and one freighter reported in danger, and acute suffering was felt in the tenement districts.

The wind storm which occurred Friday, causing thousands of dollars damage, apparently swept out to sea and greatly endangered all shipping.

Trips Across Terrible.

The French liner Rochambeau and the United States Liner George Washington came into port yesterday and their commanders said the trips across had been terrible.

"It was the worst storm in my 33 years of sailing an Atlantic liner, Captain L. Rollin of the French boat said. He said the storm lasted for six days. Captain Harold Cunningham of the George Washington, who will take command of the Leviathan succeeding Captain Herbert Hartley, concurred in this statement.

In the metropolitan area, the suffering was acute. One man was found dead from the cold in New Jersey, another man slipped and fell to death, while two others were killed when their motor car plunged through a guard rail into the Gowanus canal. They had been blinded by flying snow.

Capital Digs Out.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Washington today was digging out from its second worst snowstorm in twenty-five years. Near-zero temperatures hampered the hundreds of men employed at clearing away Saturday's snow, in which some cases was piled several feet deep.

Two deaths were traceable to the storm. Frank S. Reynolds, 64, shoveled snow too long and fell dead of heart attack. Charles Devin Davis, 74, died from the same cause near Annapolis, Md.

Snow packed in by traffic brought out many horse-drawn sleighs, thousands of sleds and occasional skis. Skidding automobiles struck two boys on sleds and injured five pedestrians.

Count Nobile Pio Macchi di Cellere, attache at the Italian embassy, avoided arrest by claiming diplomatic immunity after his car passed out of control on an ice-coated street and struck down Charles E. Hall, 26. The car turned around three times and crashed against a tree. Cellere escaped injury, as did Manuel Alonzo, Philadelphia tennis star, who was riding with him.

Clear weather prevailed today where the S-3 was last seen, but the United State weather bureau expects another storm within thirty-six hours, the navy department was informed.

Missing Vessel Is Safe.

Cape May, N. J., Jan. 30. — Coast guard No. 107, missing since Saturday night, was reported by coast guard headquarters today as safe in Delaware Bay.

A broken radio set, it was said, prevented the craft from reporting its position during storms over the week-end.

Visit in College Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snodderly and family, Elmo, went to College Springs Ia., yesterday to visit Dan Needham and family.

HE BEAT THE SLUSH FUND

EVERETT KENT, DEMOCRAT, AN ODDITY IN PENNSYLVANIA.

NOW FIGHTING VARE

State's Only Representative Not a Republican.—"Licked" a Powerful Machine.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington, Jan. 30.—If Congressman Everett Kent doesn't watch out, they'll stuff him and put him in the Smithsonian museum.

Kent is the only Democratic congressman from Pennsylvania. He got into the House after a gory battle with a powerful machine and a big slush fund. He is so intelligent and aggressive that he has taken command of a fight which may give Boss Bill Vare of Pennsylvania his second bad licking here this session.

Defying the thirty-five other Pennsylvania representatives, Kent is out to unseat the Hon. James M. Beck. Boss Vare, elected to the Senate and doomed to be thrown out, gave Beck his old seat in the House last fall after Beck had lawyered for him even unto the point of writing a book to prove Vare's right to the senatorship.

The allegation against Beck is that he wasn't even a legal Philadelphian and hence had no right to run in the special election arranged for him by Vare.

Kent, 39 years old, is a former machinist, newspaper reporter, school teacher and principal, coal dealer and lawyer. He served a term here once before, being elected in 1922.

Preached Equal Justice.

With reference to his last election, Kent was asked:

"How did you, a Democrat, ever get elected in Pennsylvania?"

"Simple," said he. "I went to the people with a doctrine of equal and exact justice to all and special privilege to none. Did the people get what I meant? You bet they did!

"The gang raised $75,000 to beat me. Prohibition enforcement officials and other federal jobholders raised most of it by squeezing it out of the liquor dealers. The liquor dealers were called on to contribute. They had to pay, but they were so angry about it that they voted for me after supporting me on the quiet.

"The output of several breweries was diverted into my district in the last four days of the campaign. Anyone who wanted to distribute it to persuade the voters to vote against me could have a barrel free. But most of them took it and sold it for 15 cents a glass and then voted for me.

"I couldn't get a campaign card on railroad property. The railroad officials placarded their grounds with opposition placards and worked on their employes, but the workers came to my meetings at night and all employes except the officials voted for Kent.

District "Never Debauched."

"In 1924, during the Republican landslide, they counted me out in districts that were positively mine. This time I served notice that they hadn't better try it again, paid $200 for watchers and won by 1500 votes. I've got a great independent district of Pennsylvania, which has never been debauched.

"When I tell the railroad men, farmers, miners and factory workers there that the Pennsylvania tax system hits widows worst of all—especially widows forced out to make their own living scrubbing floors, dressmaking or in factories—while nine billion dollars of corporate wealth goes untaxed, they know what I mean because they've seen it work. My opponent had referred everybody who wanted anything in Washington to the county chairman at home and they didn't like that.

"I made 130 speeches and spoke wherever I could get a front porch, a church social or an abandoned hotel barroom."

Kent predicts that Democracy will soon recover itself in Pennsylvania.

Miss Esther Hull came yesterday from Freeport, Ill. and will take a position with the Yehle Dry Goods Co.

MAYOR JIMMY WALKER LIKES WATER WAGON

Forced to It by Doctor's Orders, New York Executive Admits He's Better Off.

New York, Jan. 30.—Jimmy Walker is off the stuff, and happy.

Broadway has known for some time that its fun-loving mayor was "on the wagon" under his doctor's orders, but it remained for the Rev. Christian F. Reisner, pastor of the Chelsea Methodist Episcopal Church, to reveal that the mayor likes "The Wagon" and feels in better health while perched upon it.

Dr. Reisner, in his sermon last night, told his congregation he had the mayor's permission to quote him on the benefits of voluntary abstinence. He also quoted the mayor as saying the most enjoyable dinner he ever attended in New York was one given by 2,200 Methodists a year ago.

Walker, who is a Catholic, will address the Methodist preachers' meeting on March 5, Dr. Reisner said. The pastor told his congregation:

"Mayor Walker, in his generous way, gave me permission on Friday to tell you this:

"'I no longer drink champagne or alcohol in any form, nor have I since last September. My health is very much better without it. Then, too, while I enjoyed the exhilirating high spots from alcoholic stimulants, the low spots of the next morning collected a heavy toll. I find it most agreeable, as well as healthier, to walk on the even pathway with no stimulant'."

Dry Chief Hails Convert.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Mayor Walker's climb to the water wagon was hailed here today by Assistant Secretary of Treasury Lowman, dry chief, as a "Great achievement for prohibition."

"Taking of the pledge by my friend Jimmy makes up for all my other trials and tribulations," Lowman said. "One more soul is redeemed."

400 Men in St. Louis 'Hit Trail' for Sunday

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 30.—Out of an audience of 9,000 men, more than 400 hit the sawdust trail at Billy Sunday's call here last night. Approximately 180,000 have heard the evangelist in three weeks.

Does Friendship Really Count In Business?

Quite a long time ago someone said, "there is no friendship in business." He couldn't have been thinking very hard when he said it because nothing was ever farther from the truth.

The business of our store has been built up entirely on friendship—the sincere kind that tries to give our customers just a little more than a square deal.

The very future of this town depends on the friendship of the surrounding community, and we who serve in its stores should remember that every discourteous and selfish act on our part hurts our own future; every kind and thoughtful act is just another stone to build up mutual prosperity.

Let's make 1928 a big year for community development. We can do it if we'll all pull together.

SHIPPING BILL NEAR A VOTE

MEASURE DESIGNED TO MAKE COOLIDGE CHANGE POLICY.

MAY VETO IF PASSED

Senate Sponsors Oppose Sale of Government Ships, But House May Back President.

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

Washington, Jan. 30.—An amendment to provide easier terms on government loans to private shipping interests was proposed by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, as a final vote neared on the Jones Shipping bill in the Senate today.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The Jones bill designed to make President Coolidge change his shipping policy moved toward adoption in the Senate today.

The measure was framed by a controlling group of Republicans and Democrats to stop the sale of government ships to private operators. It would encourage government operation.

Mr. Coolidge wants to sell all the government ships as soon as possible. As late as last Friday he made known his strong opposition to the bill. He thinks the experimental government operation has cost too much money and that the most economical way out of the difficulty is to get rid of the ships.

May Fail in House.

Chairman Jones of the Senate commerce committee, assistant Republican leader in the upper house, is leading the opposition with Senator Fletcher, leader of the Democrats in shipping matters. Jones and Fletcher believe the American merchant marine should be maintained for the time being, even if it does cost government money. They believe it untimately can be put on a paying basis and that until then the government should see that American bottoms operate on the seas.

Mr. Coolidge may veto the bill if it passes both houses. Just how the House will line up the measure is not certain, but Mr. Coolidge has more influence there than he has in the Senate and he may be able to sidetrack the measure before it comes to his desk.

A vote on the bill is scheduled in the Senate for about 5 p. m. today. A unanimous consent agreement has been adopted under which no senator may speak more than 5 minutes after 4 p. m. This will assure a final vote before adjournment tonight.

Reaffirms Policy.

As revised, the bill reaffirms the policy of Congress toward development of a merchant marine. It promises future appropriations for replacing old ships and building new ones whenever advisable. The shipping board is directed to present recommendations for new vessels.

The additional paragraph which is causing all the trouble reads:

"The board shall not sell any vessel or any line except when in its judgment the building up and maintenance of an adequate merchat marine can best be served thereby, and then only upon the affirmative unanimous vote of the members of the board.'

Both sides in the argument agree that it will be practically impossible for the seven members of the board to agree on sales and that the effect of the provision will be to prevent sales.

Insurance Newspaper Praises Somerville

The Standard, a weekly insurance newspaper issued at Boston, Mass., contained the following write-up about A. Neil Somerville:

"Neil Somerville, a prominent factor in the Kansas City agency of the Penn Mutual Life, where he has been an active life man and large producer for the past thirteen years, and last year the president of the Life Underwriters Association of Kansas City, will make his future home in Boston and has joined the Stanford Wright agency of the Penn Mutual here. He is a native of Scotland.

"Mr. Somerville came east to secure hospital treatment for his wife, who was in a critical condition and did not survive. Opportunity was given him to make a place for himself in the Wright agency and the arrangement being of mutual advantage Boston will gain through the presence of this high grade man from the mid-west."

Miss Inez Hardenbrook, of Bedford, Ia., spent Saturday here.

Mrs. L. L. Gillespie, of Hopkins, was a Maryville visitor this afternoon.

Mrs. C. H. Talbott, of Graham, spent the day in Maryville.

G. F. Grissenger, of Stanberry, was here today.

Takes Heroism to Meet Daily Tasks

Courage Greater Than That of the Battlefield Is Required, Says Rev. Dewar.

Greater heroism than that of the battlefield is needed in daily life, the Rev. W. N. Dewar declared yesterday morning in a sermon at the First Presbyterian Church.

Heroism, he pointed out, is needed in meeting with disappointment—to start again when plans have gone wrong; for parents to "live down" disappointment in their children; to make new ones when friends fail, keeping confidence and trust in the fidelity and worth of human nature; and to survive disappointment in the manner in which the world has used us.

Heroism is needed in the fight against poverty, he continued, declaring that "with all the wealth of America there are yet millions who never get rid of the fear of poverty.

It is heroism that is needed to live morally, the minister contended.

"It never has been easy," he explained. "The world makes it difficult, especially our modern world. I delight in optimism. But there is no need to blind ones eyes to the true condition of things. We have been indulging in recent years in an orgy of cynicism against the sanctios of life. We are throwing off restraints in the name of personal liberty and we are becoming cowards in the matter of morality. It is easier to listen to and follow the voice of the cave man in us. But morality will not be advanced in the world unless we give ear to the voice of God.

"It takes heroism to live true to our ideals," he added. "It is hard to fight the battle of the world through flesh and the devil. Keep on in well doing. We don't reap the fruits of the spiritual life if we don't As we sow we reap.

"It takes heroism to face life after bereavement. Life is a void that seemingly cannot be filled. But God can fill any void," was the Reverend Mr. Dewar's final point.

"We know not what a day may bring forth. But we know if we sow to the spirit we shall reap life everlasting."

Children's Church Is Given a Good Start

Attendance at First M. E. So Large It Is Decided to Have Two Divisions.

The Children's Church of the First M. E. Church, for children up to the age of 12 years, had its opening service yesterday.

Forty-one children attended and were seated near the rostrum at the opening of the morning worship. After a short talk by the pastor of the church, the Rev. W. S. Woodhull, on "The Different Ways in Which God Talks to Us," the children marched to the room of the intermediate department, where they had a church service of their own. At this service, H. R. Deiterich, principal of the high school, gave an address on "The Kinds of People We Should Be and the Kind of People That God Wants Us to Be."

The Children's Church is under the supervision of Mrs. Guy Haller. Miss Virginia Larmer is pianist. Other assistants are Mrs. C. C. Leeson, Miss Elizabeth Woodhull and Lawrence Wray.

It has been decided that hereafter the children will be divided into two classes.

Mrs. Leeson and her assistants will be in charge of the children of preschool age, who will meet in the main auditorium with the other children for the pastor's talk, after which they will go to the beginners' room of the Sunday school for their own service. The older children, under the leadership of Mrs. Haller, with Miss Larmer as pianist, Miss Gertrude Wray in charge of the music and Miss Woodhull in charge of story telling and dramatization, will meet in the intermediate room of the Sunday school after the pastor's talk.

For one month the children will be given the opportunity of signing a charter, which will be framed.

A feature of the night service at the First Methodist Church was the appearance of the boys' choir in vestments.

Twenty-one boys sang in the choir as follows:

Junior and William Somerville, Richard and Kenneth Miller, Jimmy Bennett, Donald, Charles and Harold Healy, Kenneth and Billy Tebow, John Workman, Wendell Donahue, Kay Donahue, George Youngmark, Herman Milliken, J. L. Coffey, Jack Ford, Dale Street, Glen Belt, Beverly Carpenter and Joe Bryant.

Says Church Needs More Virile Faith

The Rev. L. E. Lakin Tells Christians How It May Be Strengthened.—Harder Than Conversion.

"There is one thing especially for which the church prays most earnestly today, and that is a more virile faith," the Rev. L. E. Lakin told a congregation at the First Christian Church last night.

Faith, he said, is confirmed and made strong by the preaching of the Gospel, by modern testimony, by "modern miracles of Christianity, by labor, and by trials.

The Reverend Mr. Lakin said the early disciples had two purposes in mind when they went forth, the first to make disciples and the second to confirm those who had been won. The second he declared the larger task.

"The evangelism that takes no thought of the morrow," the minister said, "is dangerous, for it is harmful. To father, to mother, to cherish, to nourish, is after all the great problem of the church. We get enthusiasm about the beginning of the job, but we grow cold when the task of finishing it is at hand.

"I commend the preacher who is willing to 'Go' and preach the gospel, but I commend more highly still the preacher who is

"Even trials confirm our faith," he said. "Our successes inspire us, but our trials also strengthen. What God has done is helpful in its design.

"Whatever God permits may serve a noble purpose. All earth seems bent at times on destroying; yet it does not destroy. The great Fir Tree on yonder mountain is stronger after building for hundreds of years with the storms. The real heroes of life, as well as the heroes of life to be, are those who have 'come up through great tribulation.' 'Despise not then thy fate. The purpose of much that we endure may not be understood. Quit ye like men. Be strong'."

Paul Sought Good Report for Christ

Highest Ambition to Please Him, the Rev. Guy L. Prather Says in Sermon.

"Paul's highest ambition is that he might be well pleasing to the Christ. To this aim he gave his whole life with its great powers and influences. Such an aim must ennoble and empower every effort," the Rev. Guy L. Prather said in his sermon yesterday at the First Baptist Church. He spoke on "A Noble Ambition."

"As friends seek to honor and please each other, so Paul seeks the honor of his Christ. The love of Christ constrains him to noblest efforts, and restrains him from what is unworthy. "His future fellowship with the Christ is a delightful hope of his heart. The awards for faithful service sharpen the edge of his ambitions. The account to be given of his service tends to stir him to his best. He wants to stand well with the Judge, before whom he must give his account. He is an ambassador of Christ, he represents his interests, he proclaims his honor and glory, he seeks to bring men to acknowledge him as Lord. He would please him who has appointed him to such honors and to such service."

Miss Anthony Chosen National President of Home Ec. Sorority

Miss Hettie M. Anthony, of the State Teachers College faculty, was elected national president of Kappa Omicron Phi, a home economics society, at its second national conclave at Warrensburg last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Julia Hatz, of Warrensburg, was elected vice-president; Ina Miller, of Hays, Kan., secretary; and June Cozine, of Dearborn, a former student of the College here, was chosen treasurer.

A new constitution was adopted.

Thirteen girls, accompanied by Miss Anthony, sponsor of the chapter here, and Miss Lucille Starr, attended the meeting. The trip was made by bus.

The conclave was opened Thursday evening by Chaplain Edwards and President Hendricks, of the Warrensburg State Teachers College.

Each chapter represented gave some outstanding characteristics of its college. Through these something was known of the University of Arizona at Tucson; the State Teachers College at Canyon, Texas; State Teachers College, Hays, Kan.; the College of Emporia, at Emporia, Kan.; Cape Girardeau State Teachers College; Warrensburg State Teachers College; Maryville State Teachers College; and Marshall College, at Huntington, W. Va.

After the business session Thursday night, a reception was given the visiting girls by different sororities on the Warrensburg college campus.

Entertainment offered the delegates Friday included a tea given by the faculty women, a dinner given at Reed's coffee house, a basketball game between Warrensburg and Springfield state teachers' colleges and a line party at a theater.

Saturday the faculty men furnished cars to take the visiting sorority members sight-seeing over the city and Saturday night a banquet was served at the Christian church, after which the group attended a school party and dance given in the college gymnasium.

Sport Scenes to Be Put in Church Window

New York, Jan. 30. — Sporting scenes, showing the close finish of a horse race and a prize fight, will be enshrined in a prominent window of the cathedral of St. John the Divine through presentation and formal acceptance of a $150,000 fund for that purpose.

The gift was accepted by Bishop William T. Manning, pastor of the church, as one that would bear witness "against that mistaken view of religion which was expressed in the Puritam Sabbath and in the old blue laws."

The window, a gift from every known branch of sport and many individual sportsmen, will depict twenty-six different sporting events.

THE STORY THUS FAR

The story is laid in the Indian territory and along the Kansas border in the '80's, when a fight was being waged for the opening of the territory to settlement.

Chief characters are:

TONY HARRISON, orphaned at 1[2] when his father was shot in a poker game;

PAWNEE BILL, adventurer, teacher, Indian interpurter, showman;

JOE CRAIG, who takes Tony to the Bar K ranch to live;

TITUS MOORE, owner of the Bar K brand;

RITA, his little tomboy daughter.

Some years later, when Rita and her mother depart for the east and a finishing school, the boy learns for the first time how much he cares for Titus Moore's red-haired, arrogant daughter.

Moore is one of the chief opponents of the movement to open Oklahoma. Word is received that DAVID PAYNE, leader of the movement is dead, and Tony, in his loyalty to Moore, is troubled because of his sympathy for Payne's cause.

He tries to forget Rita Moore and accompanies Pawnee Bill and BUFFALO BILL on a wild west show tour. When he returns, Rita comes back for a visit and Tony is forlorn in the knowledge of his hopeless love for her.

CHAPTER 33.

She spoke sharply to Cherokee and headed him toward home. They rode back to ranch headquarters in silence for Tony, though he was puzzled by what she had said, forbore from questioning her.

He saw little of her during the next two days; when the third day passed in the same manner he began to think she was avoiding him. He stiffened, and welcomed the chance to ride over to the 101 ranch with Joe Craig to see George Miller about some Texas longhorns he had bought for wintering and part of which he was willing to dispose of.

Although he had said nothing to Rita about it, he had left Cherokee at the Bar K. When he returned she thanked him. "But you musn't spoil me," she smiled. "Do you realize you never ride him while I'm here? Just for that I insist that you ride with me this afternoon—and I'll take Fancy . . . . Poor Fancy," she added; "she's getting old."

Tony nodded. "The colonel," he said, "will hate to part with her—when the time comes." He had not expected to find her so friendly. The resentment he had been harboring because of her aloofness during the last few days melted away; but he was a little annoyed nevertheless—a little impatient with her rapidly changing moods; he felt that she was not giving much consideration to his feelings.

Sooner or later, he was thinking, he would have to speak—she would have to know the truth. His better judgment told him to keep silent, to maintain the pretense he had kept up for so long; but he felt stifled. It would hurt her, of course; it could not do otherwise. But he would be hurt much more when he learned from her own lips the hopelessness of his longing—and there would be a measure of relief in the cruel pain.

Better anything than the desperate uncertainty within him—the same desperate uncertainty with which a drowning man reaches out his hand to clutch at a straw. Once the issue was met there would be an end to it, and, eventually, he would find peace of mind.

He walked over to look at Cherokee and the big stallion made little nickering sounds of welcome at his approach. Tony patted him affectionately. "I'm right low down in spirits, Cherokee," Tony told him, and laughed—a strange, harsh laugh. "Faint heart ne'er won fair lady,' Cherokee horse. If there's any comfort in that statement I'm sure hoping to find it."

He lingered near the corral most of the afternoon, waiting for Rita; but she did not put in an appearance until evening. "I had a thousand things to do," she explained, "and mother seemed to want me at her elbow every minute. I slipped out right after we had eaten, explaining that I wanted to see the sunset."

It was not too late for that, he assured her. "I've got Fancy all saddled."

She watched him admiringly as he vaulted to Cherokee's back, spurning the stirrups. "You once told me," she said, "that you were jealous of Cherokee's affection for me. You needn't be; the horse idolizes you. I wonder if you realize it?"

"We do get along," Tony admitted.

She let her gaze take in the picture of him as he sat so easily and gracefully in the saddle. "Like a centaur," she thought; "I wonder if he is as unconscious of it as he appears to be?"

They rode at a gallop, to get to their hill before the sun should slip down below the horizon. As they pulled in at the top of the rise, Rita exclaimed aloud. "We're just in time, Tony! Look!"

She pointed to the west, at a ball of orange fire. "It's beautiful!"

"It is pretty," Tony admitted. He slipped easily to the ground and helped her dismount, and stood silently beside her while they watched the sun disappear.

She was the first to break the spell. "Sunsets always make me sad," she said. "Do they make you feel the same way?"

"A child," he answered, "hates the dark; and I reckon it's something we never outgrow."

Rita nodded understandingly. "Tony," she asked presently, "are you afraid of the dark sometimes?"

"Well, no," he admitted after some thought. "I used to rebel somewhat when I was a youngster, because it generally meant bedtime. You're not trying to tell me," he added, looking at her queerly, "that you're afraid of the dark?"

She did not answer directly. "The dark," she mused, "is like the future—we go into it groping, wondering. Do I seem to be talking nonsense, Tony?"

"Not at all."

"Well," and she laughed, "let's talk about something else."

"About our fates," he suggested, and was surprised at his own boldness. "You once asked me if I had met mine yet and—"

He stopped, almost certain that he had seen her shudder.

"Oh, no," she protested in a queer voice; "not about that. Let's talk about this." She gestured about her with her hand. "I'll be leaving next week; I wonder if you know how much I'll miss it when I'm gone."

"I've always thought you were right glad to leave it," he said sullenly, stung because she had diverted the conversation.

She was silent so long that he thought he had angered her. "I know you don't mean that," she said finally. "I think you were especially cruel to say it when you know I'm leaving it this time not to come back."

"I didn't know that," he said softly.

"On account of mother," she explained.

He could not see her face for the darkness, but he thought she sounded as if she was crying. For a moment he felt a terrifying timidity.

"Rita," he said presently, his voice sounding to him like the voice of a stranger.

"Rita—" somehow the thing would not come out; he would have to lead up to it. "Hell!" he said.

He heard her laugh. "Is that what you wanted to say to me? Go ahead, Tony; I'm listening.

In the dimness he rolled and lighted a cigaret, to take three or four nervous puffs and throw it away. In back of him Cherokee made a slight sound of impatience and came over to nuzzle him. Tony spoke to him soothingly.

"I've got two or three things on my mind," he began after a while. "It don't seem right to let you go away without letting you know what they are. Seven years ago Joe Craig came across a little maverick up in Caldwell and brought him down to the Bar K. If it hadn't been for Joe Craig who's got a heart as big as a bucket, I don't know what would have become of me. I'm real grateful to him."

He paused and she murmured, "Everyone loves Joe."

"They should. Then there was your father. He welcomed me down here and treated me like a son. Even you don't know how much he's done for me."

She said, "I'm sure he doesn't feel that he's done so much. No more than anyone would have done. He feels you've done so much for him. He's proud of you, Tony."

"I don't know why he should be, but I'm sure happy to hear you say it. What I want to tell you, though, is to remember, when you go away, that I'm grateful—no matter what turns up. Will you do that?"

"Why of course," she said wonderingly, "Why should I ever think otherwise?"

He plucked at his chaps with thumb and finger and traced a design in the cool grass with his right boot. A vague fear ran through her like a chill, and she spoke in a trembling voice. "Tony, I don't like to hear you talk like that. There's such a dreadful air of—of finality in it. You make me feel afraid."

"Of the dark?" he asked with a mirthful smile. "The moon is up, Rita—and there are the stars. I've got something else to tell you, Rita; something's happened to me."

Her face was hidden from him in her hands, and he saw her tremble as though she felt a sudden premonition; but he went ahead in a swift rush of words. "It happened when you went east for the first time. Up to then I'd always felt sort of—well, annoyed when you were around. I never did have any use for girls, anyway. But when you went away you took something with you. I guess it was my heart Rita. I tried to argue with myself, but it didn't do any good; I used to ride along the old trails that you and I'd ridden over before, and mope and—"

Rita's voice, harsh and strained interrupted his confession. "Tony, you mustn't—you don't know what you're saying—"

"Let me talk," he said savagely. "If I make a fool of myself I'll do it in my own way, and you've got to listen. I told myself I was crazy and I tried to forget you—but it wasn't any use. Girl, I've got to tell you—I've got to—"

"No, Tony. Please."

"Hell and high water can't stop me. I love you, Rita. Do you hear that? I love you."

(To Be Continued.)

What will Rita say? What will she say? Tony gets his answer in the next installment.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Attends Church Meet, Then Ends Own Life

Seneca, Kan., Jan. 30.—Two hours after he had attended a meeting of directors of the First Congregational Church, L. D. Allen, 56, prominent churchman in this county and president of the First State Savings Bank, shot and killed himself in his office here.

A note to his wife and children was found near his body. "It is now 4:40 o'clock. Oh, the distress if I live and the distress if I die," said the missive.

Worry over financial affairs was given as the cause of his suicide. Allen is survived by his wife and five children.

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

Venezuela Adds Its Tribute to Lindbergh

Good Will Flier Has Dangerous Trip From Colombia—Forced 300 Miles Out of Course.

Maracay, Venezuela, Jan. 30.—Another nation today paid a proud and warm hearted homage to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who in his airplane, "Spirit of St. Louis," brought a message of friendship from the people of the United States to the people of Venezuela.

Lindbergh flew here from Bogota, Colombia, a hazardous trip through stormy skies, and landed in this pretty city at 6:10 p. m. Sunday.

He had been in the air more than ten hours and had been forced more than 300 miles out of his course because of storms over Colombia. But he was a smiling and happy ambassador of good will as he crawled from the cabin of the airplane to grasp the hand of President Juan Vicente Gomez.

His famous smile flashed on the enthusiastic crowd at the flying field, and all were won by his eager boyishness.

"Vivas" rang from the throats of the Venezuelans and they crowded about, eager to be near the young pilot whose feats have become legend even in South America.

"I salute you as the greatest representative of American enterprise," President Gomez told Lindbergh. The flier gracefully accepted the tribute.

An imposing schedule of entertainment was planned for Lindbergh today. A general holiday was declared with all of the banks and business institutions closed.

This was to be Lindbergh's last visit in South America on the present trip. His plans called for a flight Tuesday to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, thence to Porto Rico, Santo Domingo, Haiti and finally Havana.

From Havana Lindbergh was expected to fly back to the United States.

Field Marshal Haig, Great Britain, Dies

British Commander Rated With Foch, Petain and Pershing as World War Geniuses.

London, Jan. 30.—The Earl Haig, field marshal of the British forces during most of the war, died today.

He was 66 years old.

Death occurred suddenly during the night and was attributed to heart disease.

Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig was one of the outstanding figures of the world war.

He was the commanding officer of the First British Army from 1914 to 1915, commander-in-chief of the expeditionary forces to France and Flanders from 1915 to 1919; and field marshal and commander-in-chief of the forces in Great Britain from 1919 to 1920.

He was rated with Marshal Foch, Marshal Petain and General Pershing as among the outstanding military geniuses who contributed to the allied victory over Germany.

In 1919 he was created an Earl, mainly as a reward for his great military success.

ANOTHER SUB MAY BE LOST

S-3, SISTER SHIP TO ILL-FATED S-4, IS MISSING.

SEPARATED IN STORM

Other Vessels Begin Search for Undersea Craft About 100 Miles Off Cape Hatteras.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The submarine S-3 was separated from other submarines on the control force Saturday 100 miles off Cape Hatteras, N. C., and search is being made for her by other vessels, Rear Admiral Frank H. Brumby, commander of the control force, reported to the navy department today.

The submarine, sister ship of the ill-fated S-4, became separated in a rain squall during a gale. No communications have been received from the submersible since then.

The submarine was lost in latitude 33-25 north, longitude 75-25 west, which the navy department said was about 100 miles off Cape Hatteras.

Ocean Two Miles Deep.

The ocean is two miles deep at the spot where the S-3 separated from the fleet. The vessel carried provisions sufficient for several days.

The airplane carrier Saratoga, the submarine tender Camden and the submarines, S-7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 are searching for her.

"In releasing the foregoing information the navy department announces that the search is being made on account of the failure of communication between the missing submarine and other vessels of the group," the navy department statement said.

This is not unusual in the case of small vessels during bad weather conditions, it was explained.

The S-3 is commanded by Lieut. P. W. Warren, a graduate of the naval academy. Warren is from Springfield, Ill.

Had Crew of 41 Men.

The submarine had a complement of four officers, four chief petty officers and 33 men.

The vessel was built at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1917, and was first commissioned in January, 1919.

The control force left Hampton Roads, Va., Friday for Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where it was to engage in winter maneuvers.

Rear Admiral Brumby had been in charge of salvage operations at the scene of the S-4 disaster, Provincetown, Mass., until last week, when he was ordered to resume his regular command as head of the control force.

Prominent Nebraska Editor Dies Sunday

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 30.—Will Owen Jones, editor of the Lincoln State Journal, died Sunday of heart attack. Jones was made editor of the Journal in 1907. He was 65 years old.

The veteran editor was attending church services yesterday with his wife when he was seized with the heart trouble. He died in a few moments.

Jones had conducted a "more or less personal" column in the Journal that had a following over all of Nebraska. He was probably the best known newspaper man in Nebraska and his poetry was widely read throughout the country.

Final Grain Review.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Grain futures were surprisingly firm today despite predominating bearish influences. Enormous receipts depressed corn only slightly. Late in the day wheat was off around ½c; corn was about ⅝c lower and oats was a shade lower.

The wheat market received the full force of a combination of bearish factors. Foreign markets declined. Southwest points reported some snow alleviating danger to winter wheat. No export business of consequence was reported. These factors held trading to small volume but there was no decided break in sight.

Receipts were 23 cars. Cash wheat was unchanged.

Corn receipts of 1,045 cars, the largest shipment on the new crop, depressed futures early. The large movement, however, had little lasting effect on the cash market. The tone firmed and held steady. Late in the day weakness developed but there was no sharp decline up to the final hour. The cash market was steady to ¼c lower.

Oats showed little change in a dull and featureless session. Receipts totaled 132 cars and the cash market held unchanged.

Corn futures upset all calculations by going into a sensational upturn during the final hour in the face of the largest receipts of the season. Wheat weakened but corn's reflected strength held the declines to fractions.

Oats followed wheat in a slight drop. Cash demand for corn continued surprisingly strong all day. Final figures:

Wheat, off ¼ to ⅜c; corn, ⅞ to 1⅛c higher; oats, unchanged to ⅛c up.

Provisions closed sharply lower.

BEARCATS IN A COMEBACK

TEACHERS COP SECOND GAME AT CAPE GIRARDEAU, 31-21.

IN LEAD FROM START

Burks and McKee Lead in Scoring, With Hedges Close Behind.—Play Is Rough.

Cape Girardeau, Mo., Jan. 30.—The Maryville Teachers staged a comeback here Saturday night to defeat the Cape Girardeau Indians, 31 to 21, in a rather rough basketball game. Today the Bearcats of the Northwest Teachers College continue to stand fourth in the M. I. A. A. basketball race, having won half of the four conference games played.

Garbed in their regular uniforms, which were brought here from Maryville by President Uel W. Lamkin and Coach Earl Davis, the Bearcats appeared a different team than in the game the previous night when they lost to the Southeast Teachers 24 to 26.

Paul Burks, Maryville center, was a constant menace to the Indians, his few attempts at baskets always going true. He, with Raymond McKee, substitute forward and center, wrought havoc with the Cape Girardeau defense, each making ten points to tie for high scoring honors.

Hedges Hits Better.

Orville Hedges, Maryville forward, broke into the scoring column more prominently than in Friday's tussle, tossing the ball for a total of nine points.

Maryville again took the jump from the very start of the game, caging six points before Cape Girardeau scored. The Southeast Teachers then pulled up within a point of the visitors and at the half way period of the first half were trailing 7 to 8. Coach Courleaux tried all kinds of combinations during the game in an effort to stem the Maryville offense, making a total of thirteen substitutions, though using only nine men. From the score of 8 to 7, the Bearcats pulled away to a fair lead, closing the first period, 14 to 9.

There was no stopping the Bearcats in the last half, Curley McKee repeatedly found the basket and the Maryville lead continued to increase, despite the efforts of Hope, Cape forward, who made 8 points and was the home team's high pointer.

Howard Iba, who was substituted at guard, was taken out of the game with four personal fouls credited to him, with only three minutes of the game left to play.

Dempsey Never to Fight Again, Report

Former Champ's Eyes Are Failing and General Condition Bad, Rickard Is Told.

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Jack Dempsey, the Chicago Herald and Examiner said in a copyrighted article today, has notified Tex Rickard at Miami Beach, Fla., his physician has ordered him never to fight again.

As a result, the article said, Rickard abandoned hopes of a third match between Dempsey and champion Gene Tunney.

The article said Rickard had confided to friends in Florida that he believed Dempsey was just beginning to feel the effects of the beating administered to him by Tunny here last September.

Dempsey's eyes have gone back on him and his general condition is bad, the Herald and Examiner said.

The former champion is understood to be in California.

Tunney Begins Training.

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 30.—Gene Tunney was to begin training today for his next heavyweight championship bout.

Under the direction of Lou Fink, his trainer, Tunney was to start an active round of work, expected to condition him for the opponent Tex Rickard will pick.

Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, is expected Wednesday, apparently for a conference with Rickard. Tex has announced he may have something to say about a heavyweight fight" by the end of the week.

Kansas City—With eight victories and no losses, Oklahoma continues to lead the Missouri Valley conference basketball race.

VISITORS WIN TOURNAMENT

RAVENWOOD GIRLS, AND WORTH BOYS VICTORS AT PARNELL.

GAMES HARD FOUGHT

Boys' Preliminaries Won by Close Margins.—Parnell Teams in Both Finals.

The Ravenwood High School girls and the Worth High School boys won first honors at the Parnell basketball tournament, which was sponsored Saturday afternoon and night by the Parnell High School.

The Parnell teams furnished the final opposition in both divisions.

Both the Parnell boys and girls teams weakened in the last half of each game. The Parnell girls were leading 8 to 7 at the half. The free throwing of Conn, Ravenwood forward, was a feature of the girls' final game, she making ten out of twelve attempts from the free throw line. Ravenwood won by a score of 24 to 12. Coach Harry Nelson used his entire squad against Ravenwood.

The Worth and Parnell boys put up a splendid exhibition of basketball in the first half of the final game, with both teams presenting formidable defense. After a 4 to 4 deadlock, which lasted during the greater part of the first half, the Worth boys broke the tie with a pair of field baskets, to lead 8 to 4 at the half. In the last two quarters the defense of the Parnell team was weak and Worth took a commanding lead, with the final count 18 to 10.

Worth Downs Ravenwood.

In the boys' preliminaries, Worth beat the Ravenwood five, 18 to 15, in a thrilling game. At the half-way the teams were tied, 10-all. Ravenwood failed to score from the field in the last half but kept in the running by making free throws count.

In the other boys' preliminary game, Parnell battled its way to the finals to defeat Grant City, 15 to 13, in a last-minute rally. Parnell took a six point lead early in the game but Grant City soon tied the score and the half ended 8-all. During the last half the lead first went to one team and then to the other. Trailing 11 to 13, with three minutes to play, Bateman, Parnell midget forward, was substituted and he took a long fling with the ball, to knot the score and then raced under the basket for another counter as the game ended. The defensive work of Harris, Parnell center, contributed much to the Parnell victory.

Ravenwood took a slow game from Grant City, 22 to 8, in the girls' preliminary contest. Grant City led 7 to 6 at the half with Ravenwood using second string players. With the regulars playing in the second half, Ravenwood soon rolled up a big lead, Conn connecting with the basket at difficult angles and the Ravenwood guards holding Grant City to 1 point.

Gymnasium Is Burned at William Jewell

Second Fire This Year Destroys Building.—Campaign Under Way for New One.

Liberty, Mo., Jan. 30.—Fire caused by the heating system early today destroyed Brown Gymnasium at William Jewell College here. It was the second fire this year. The first blaze was caused by poorly connected steam pipes.

The gymnasium has been used as a practice room and for lockers since 1924. It was an old building and one of the first gymnasiums west of the Mississippi river. It was erected in 1880 and was the gift of S. J. Brown of St. Louis.

The loss was covered by insurance. A campaign is now underway to build a new gymnasium.

Leaders in Valley Conference to Meet

Oklahoma, Undaunted, to Play Missouri at Columbia Saturday.—Tigers Beaten Once.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 30.—A game between Missouri and Oklahoma at Columbia Saturday will be the most important basketball contest in the Missouri Valley conference this week.

Oklahoma has won eight straight games in the valley this season and Missouri, with but one defeat, is believed the most serious obstacle lying between the Oklahoma aggregation and a conference title.

On Friday Oklahoma will meet Washington at St. Louis as a preliminary to the big game Saturday in Columbia. Should the Sooners slip up in the meeting with Washington and also be defeated Saturday when they meet the Tigers, they will be routed from the conference lead which they have held since the season's opening.

Oklahoma A. & M. and the Kansas Aggies play Friday night.

The Kansas University team will play three games in Iowa. On Thursday they meet Grinnell, Friday Iowa State and Saturday Drake.

After their tilt with the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan Friday the Oklahoma A. & M. go to Lincoln to meet Nebraska Saturday.

FOR AN ISSUE OF $75,000,000

COMPROMISE ROAD PROPOSAL TO BE PUT BEFORE VOTERS.

LIMIT ON THE TAXES

No Increase in Licenses Nor Gasoline Tax for Ten Years.—Add Farmer-to-Market Roads.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 30.—A committee to draft an initiative proposal for submitting a $75,000,000 road improvement bond issue to Missouri voters, will meet here Thursday. It was announced by Governor Sam Baker today.

Jefferson City, Jan. 30.—A proposition for an additional $75,000,000 state road bond issue to complete, enlarge and extend the Missouri highway system will be submitted to the voters at the general election in November under a recommendation adopted late Saturday by Gov. Baker's conference committee of six.

After almost an entire day of deliberation, the committee finally agreed on $75,000 as a compromise between the $120,000,000 proposal urged by the Automobile Club of Missouri and the $60,000,000 recommendation of the Highway Commission, which resulted in the road bond controversy of the last few months.

Gov. Baker is to call together another committee of six at once to draft the proposal.

Stark Head of Campaign.

Lloyd Stark of Louisiana, Mo., vice president of Stark's nurseries and the Stark Fruit Co., was named chairman of a campaign committee which is to begin work at once on a campaign for passage of the $75,000,000 program at the November election.

The Governor's committee voted to place a limitation of 10 years on the present rate of state automobile license registration and the 2 cents a gallon State gasoline tax.

It also was voted that the additional bond money for construction of roads is to be distributed on a basis of area and population. There will be no minimum or maximum amounts.

Governor Baker announced the committee to draft the $75,000,000 proposition will consist of Attorney-General N. T. Gentry, T. H. Cutler, chief engineer of the State Highway Department; Maj. Roy A. Britton of St. Louis, president of the Automobile Club of Missouri; John Malang of the Automobile club and Herbert V. Jones of Kansas City, real estate dealer.

52 Per Cent Complete.

A statement by the committee pointed out that 5009 miles have been surfaced on the present 7640-mile system and that on a money basis the system is 52 per cent complete, construction so far having cost $107,807,329.

It is estimated, it added, that the cost to complete the system, as now designated, would be $98,354,787, plus refund of $10,000,000, or a total of $108,354,787.

"In the following estimate of what can be done with a $75,000,000 bond issue it has been assumed that funds will not be available before the fall of 1929, at which time contracts could be let for 1930 construction," the statement said. "We have planned to issue $15,000,000 each year from 1930 to 1934, inclusive. This money, together with surplus basis receipts and Federal aid, would allow a construction program of $25,000,000 to $26,000,000 a year. With a program of this kind we could do the following things:

What It Will Do.

"Complete the present system as now designated during 1933.

"Make refunds by 1934.

"Widen present roads and build new roads (designated on a map) with the completion of the present system, by the end of 1933.

"Have available for construction of farm-to-market roads the sum of $40,000,000 by the end of 1937; the bulk of construction occurring in 1934, 1935, 1936 and 1937.

"Have during this period to 1937 approximately $6,500,000 to take care of emergencies and improvement of type in the present surfacing where traffic increase shows the necessity therefor.

"After 1937 there would be available from $6,500,000 to $13,000,000 a year for construction where needed, either on the present system, for new roads adjacent to population centers or for additional farm-to-market roads as, in the judgment of the commission, will be needed to properly handle traffic.

"All funds mentioned in the six paragraphs above are in addition to funds necessary to take care of administration, maintenance, bond interest, retirement and collection costs."
